

Analytic models of magnetic reconnection in three dimensions

I.J.D Craig

Department of Mathematics

University of Waikato

Hamilton

New Zealand

Abstract

---

The construction of 3D analytic reconnection solutions is discussed. It is shown that a variety of resistive scaling laws can be derived which allow a direct comparison with 2D and 3D magnetic reconnection simulations. Some new solutions are presented which show transient “spine, fan and separator” reconnection in a two-null, cylindrical geometry.